WELCOME TO NORTH CAROLINA

On behalf of the 260 plus members of the North Carolina Association of County Agricultural Agents, I would like to thank you for attending the 93rd Annual Meeting and Professional Improvement Conference. As you read through this program, you will discover the fruits of both the North Carolina agents' and NACAA Committees' labor and realize that this conference will truly provide you with an opportunity to grow professionally in a friendly and hospitable environment. The table is set before you, all you have to do is dive in!

I recently heard a country song that described the subtle "voices" of influence heard in this singer's head helping keep them on the right track. Mark Tucker and Karen Neill, Co-chairs of this year's Annual Meeting, have been the voices for everyone involved in this meeting. They have provided tremendous leadership for this effort and without them the wonderful programs and tours planned for the spouses, youth, life members, and regular members would not be a reality.

In our professional lives as well as our personal ones, we all can remember mentors/peers like Mark and Karen that shared words of wisdom and experiences that stuck with us. These collective voices have helped guide us in our careers. The purpose of this AM/PIC is professional development and there are some great speakers, sessions, and workshops lined up. These educational programs and the other opportunities to engage in dialogue with your peers will hopefully provide additional "voices" and better prepare you for the future. It is up to you but it is our hope that you will find North Carolina is truly "a place to grow."

It is good to have you here in my home state and my fellow North Carolinians look forward to making you feel at home, too!

2008 American/World Agriculture Award Recipient John M. Woodruff

John grew up on a farm in northwest Florida where he was involved in 4-H. With guidance and encouragement from his county agent, John received state and national 4-H awards. This experience gave John confidence to pursue a college education. After receiving his B.S. and M.S. degrees in agronomy from Auburn University and his PhD in crop physiology from Virginia Tech in 1971, he joined the faculty of the University of Georgia in 1972 where he had state-wide extension education responsibilities for soybeans and minor oilseeds. He developed and implemented guidelines for improving crop production efficiency. His plant management guidelines have been adapted and used in several states and countries.

John's peers and associates have recognized him with the following awards:

Tifton Campus Outstanding Faculty Award, 1998
Georgia Soybean Association Research Award, 1997
Walter Barnard Hill Distinguished Public Service Fellow, 1996
American Soybean Association Life Membership Award, 1995
Progressive Farmer Man of the Year Award/Georgia, 1994
Walter Barnard Hill Service Award, 1994
UGA Agricultural Alumni Distinguished Faculty Award, 1991
D. W. Brooks Extension Education Award, 1991
American Soybean Association Education Award, 1990
South American Soybean Mission, 1989
Extension Distinguished Service Award, 1988
American Soybean Association Research Tour, U.S. and United Kingdom, 1985
Georgia Soybean Association Extension Education Award, 1978

He is married to Ina Zeigler and has three children and four grandchildren. He enjoys fishing, hunting, and gardening and is committed to the belief that we are blessed to be a blessing. As such, he works wherever to help those in need. After retirement, John Woodruff travelled to Bangladesh, China, and Africa (four times) to help subsistence farmers improve crop productivity.

2008 AM/PIC SPEAKER PROFILES

General Henry H. Shelton

General Henry H. Shelton was born in Tarboro, North Carolina where he was an exemplary 4-H member particularly active in livestock projects and livestock judging. He has received the North Carolina 4-H Lifetime Achievement Award.

General Shelton received a bachelor's degree in textiles from North Carolina State University and was commissioned as a second lieutenant in the Infantry through the Reserve Officer Training Corps.

General Shelton spent the next 38 years in a variety of command and staff positions in the continental United States, Hawaii, and Vietnam. He served two combat tours in Vietnam, the first with the 5th Special Forces Group and the second with the 173rd Airborne Brigade. Also, he commanded the 3d Battalion, 60th Infantry in the 9th Infantry Division at Fort Lewis, Washington; served as the 9th Infantry Division's Chief of Staff for operations; commanded the 1st Brigade of the 82nd Airborne Division at Fort Bragg, North Carolina; and, was the Chief of Staff of the 10th Mountain Division at Fort Drum, New York.

General Shelton became the 14th Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff on October 1, 1997, and served two two-year terms, retiring on September 30, 2001. Throughout his tenure as chairman, U.S. forces were in heavy demand and participated in numerous joint operations around the globe.

During his tenure, General Shelton worked tirelessly on behalf of service members, their families, and military retirees by championing a number of landmark quality of life initiatives, including the largest military pay raise in 18 years, pay table and bonus reform, and critical improvements in both retirement and healthcare programs. He made great strides in improving the readiness and retention of the current force while simultaneously crafting Joint Vision 2020—the roadmap for the Future Joint Force. General Shelton established Joint Forces Command to consolidate joint experimentation efforts and guide the transformation of the U.S. Armed Forces for the 21st Century.

Among his many military awards, General Shelton has received four Defense Distinguished Service Medals, two Army Distinguished Service Medals, the Legion of Merit, the Bronze Star Medal for Valor, and the Purple Heart. He has been decorated by 16 foreign governments. In 2001, he was knighted by Queen Elizabeth II. Highlights of his civilian awards include the Charlotte (NC) World Affairs Council World Citizen Award for 2002, North Carolina's highest Award for Public Service, the Eisenhower Award from the Business Executives for National Security, the American Academy of Achievement's Golden Plate Award, Intrepid Freedom Award, and recognition as National Father of the Year, among others.

For his exemplary service to his country, the 107th Congress bestowed the Congressional Gold Medal on General Shelton on September 19, 2002.

Currently, General Shelton serves as Executive Director of the General Hugh Shelton Leadership Center at North Carolina State University and as Director of the Hugh and Carolyn Shelton Military Neurotrauma Foundation.

Colien Hefferan

Administrator

Cooperative State Research, Education and Extension Service

Dr. Hefferan became Administrator of Cooperative State Research, Education, and Extension Service (CSREES) on October 7, 2000.

She joined the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) in 1979 as an economist with the Family Economics Research Group, Agriculture Research Service. She transferred to the Cooperative Resources, Food and Social Sciences. With the establishment of CSREES, Dr. Hefferan was named the Deputy Administrator for Competitive Research Grants and Award Management. In August of 1995, she moved to the Office of the Administrator serving as either the Acting Administrator or the Associate Administrator of the Agency until 2000.

Prior to joining USDA, she served on the faculty at the Pennsylvania State University, as an adjunct faculty member at the University of Maryland, and as a research fellow at the Australian National University in Canberra. She has authored more than 60 research articles and chapters, edited several books on economic issues and trends influencing families and consumers, and spoken widely on issues related to advancing agricultural research and education. In 2000, she was honored with a Presidential Rank Award as a Distinguished Federal Executive.

Hefferan has a Ph.D. and M.S. Degree from the University of Illinois, and a B.S. Degree from the University of Arizona.

Dr. James Zuiches

Dr. James Zuiches is the Vice Chancellor for Extension, Engagement, and Economic Development at North Carolina State University, Raleigh, NC, effective March, 2006. In this role, he leads and coordinates all extension, engagement and economic development programs of the university, including the Cooperative Extension Service, Industrial Extension Service, Small Business and Technology Development Center, non-credit programs of the Jane S. McKimmon Center for Extension and Continuing Education, the Economic Development Partnership, and the General H. Hugh Shelton Initiative for Leadership Development.

Prior to joining NC State, Zuiches served as dean of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics at Washington State University, 1995-2003, and concurrently as director of Cooperative Extension and the Agricultural Research Center for four years and professor in the Department of Community and Rural Sociology. He had previously served as director of the Agricultural Research Center (the State Agricultural Experiment Station), 1986-1994, and associate dean of the college.

As a W. K. Kellogg Foundation program officer in 1994-95, Zuiches funded many community and rural development projects. The Kellogg Foundation and other foundations are funding his current project to create the National Coalition for Rural Entrepreneurship and increase support for job creation and economic growth in rural areas. Prior to his appointment at Washington State, Zuiches served at Cornell University (1982-86), the National Science Foundation (1979-82), and Michigan State University (1971-79). His research specializations include demography, rural sociology and research administration. He has more than 70 publications, including edited books, professional journal articles, book chapters, bulletins and editorials. He received his Ph.D. and M.S. in sociology from the University of Wisconsin, Madison, and his B.A. in philosophy and sociology from the University of Portland, Portland, OR.

Dr. James H. Johnson Jr. is the William R. Kenan Jr. Distinguished Professor of entrepreneurship and director of the Urban Investment Strategies Center.

His research interests include community and economic development, the effects of demographic changes on the U.S. workplace, interethnic minority conflict in advanced industrial societies, urban poverty and public policy in urban America, and workforce diversity issues. With support from the Russell Sage Foundation, he is researching the economic impact of Sept. 11 on U.S. metropolitan communities.

Dr. Johnson's research focuses on the causes and consequences of growing inequality in American society, particularly as it affects socially and economically disadvantaged youth; entrepreneurial approaches to poverty alleviation, job creation, and community development; interethnic minority conflict in advanced industrial societies; and business demography and workforce diversity issues. Fast Company profiled Dr. Johnson and his work in "Hopes and Dreams."

He has published more than 100 scholarly research articles and three research monographs and has co-edited four theme issues of scholarly journals on these and related topics. His latest book is "Prismatic Metropolis: Inequality in Los Angeles".

He received his PhD from Michigan State University, his MS from the University of Wisconsin at Madison and his BS from North Carolina Central University.

Commissioner Kirk Perkins

Kirk Perkins, a Democrat, is serving his first term on the Guilford County Board of Commissioners. He was elected to serve District 4 in 2004. Commissioner Perkins is a native of Guilford County and a graduate of Northeast High School. He earned a Bachelor of Arts in Administration of Criminal Justice from Guilford College.

Commissioner Perkins is a real estate appraiser with Perkins and Associates. He is a member of the Greensboro Builders Association and the Greater Greensboro Association of Realtors. Commissioner

Perkins serves as a liaison for the Board of Commissioners on the Agricultural Advisory Board, Greensboro Transportation Advisory Committee, and the Parks and Recreation Commission. He also serves on the Board's Economic Incentive Committee and Jail Construction Advisory Committee.

He is a member of number of civic and volunteer organizations including the Sierra Club and the N.C. Nature Conservancy and is an active member of Bethel Presbyterian Church. Commissioner Perkins currently resides in McLeansville with his wife, Nancy.

Johnny C. Wynne, Ph.D.

Dean and Executive Director for Agricultural Programs Johnny Wynne became Dean of the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences at NC State on December 1, 2004 after serving as Interim Dean since May 2003. The College of Agriculture and Life Sciences is one of the largest colleges at NC State University with more than 5,000 students in two-year, four-year and graduate programs. The college is also the home of the North Carolina Cooperative Extension Service and the North Carolina Agricultural Research Service.

From 1992 until being named Interim Dean in 2003, Dean Wynne served as Associate Dean and Director of the NC Agricultural Research Service. He has been on the faculty at NC State University since 1968. He taught undergraduate and graduate plant breeding and conducted peanut breeding research until 1989 when he was appointed Head of the Crop Science Department.

Dean Wynne is a North Carolina native with BS, MS and Ph.D. degrees from NC State University.

Dr. Jon F. Ort

Dr. Jon F. Ort is Assistant Vice Chancellor for Extension and Engagement, and Associate Dean of the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences at North Carolina State University as well as director of the North Carolina Cooperative Extension Service. As Associate Dean, Dr. Ort participates in setting policy for the college's three divisions—Academic Programs, the Agricultural Research Service and the Cooperative Extension Service. As Extension Director, Dr. Ort provides leadership for statewide comprehensive programs in agriculture and natural resources, family and consumer sciences, 4-H youth development and community and rural development. And, as Assistant Vice Chancellor for Extension and Engagement, he works collaboratively with his colleagues on campus to facilitate creation and implementation of new outreach opportunities for NC State University.

Dr. Ort is a native of Ohio with three degrees (B.S., M.S., and Ph.D.) from Ohio State University in Zoology and Poultry Nutrition, respectively. His professional career has been at NC State University where he has served as a faculty member in Poultry Science, Assistant Director for Academic Programs in the College, Director of the Agricultural Institute, Assistant Dean of the College and, since 1995, as Associate Dean and Extension Director. He was granted the additional title of Assistant Vice Chancellor for Extension and Engagement in 2002.

NACAA Hall of Fame Award

The NACAA Recognition and Awards Committee is proud to present these four recipients with the NACAA Hall of Fame Award. The Hall of Fame Award recognizes one member or life member from each NACAA region. Each state can nominate one individual. Based on a 500 word summary and three letters of support, the state nominees are evaluated on their Extension programming, state and national association activities and humanitarian efforts beyond the normal call of duty.

Our thanks to John Deere for sponsorship of the NACAA Hall of Fame Awards

Southern Region Hall of Fame Award James Smith

Virginia

35 Years - Retired

Jim Smith of Virginia retired after a distinguished 35 year career as an Agriculture Natural Resources Extension Agent in Appomattox County. He began his career in Halifax County, Virginia as a 4-H Extension Agent, where he served for 5 years. He transferred to Appomattox County in 1955 until he retired in 1985. Jim served in World War II and was a Prisoner of War in Germany. He was awarded several accommodations including the Bronze Star. He also was a reserve officer during the Korean conflict.

Jim was instrumental in the development of the Bull Test Center at Knoll Crest Farm in Red House, Virginia. He worked tirelessly with his clientele to improve their agriculture operations and increase their economic stability.

During his career, Smith served as President of the State Association, as well as President of NACAA. He has received the Distinguished Service Award from NACAA and was chosen for the Wall of Fame at Virginia Tech. He has been an active Life member of NACAA, serving as the co-chair of the Life Members committee for the state association.

Smith is a Mason and a member of the Lions Club. Jim's lovely wife Nell accompanies him to the State and National Meetings as well as many other functions. They have 2 sons.

To begin to describe Jim as a mentor, professional, leader, listener, hard worker, and family man – just scratches the surface of this multifaceted gentleman.

Western Region
Hall of Fame Award
Larry Sagers
Utah
26 Years

Larry Sagers, Extension Horticultural Specialist Utah State University from Erda, Utah is the 2008 NACAA Hall of Fame Award for the Western Region. Sagers has been with Extension for 26 years. He takes Utah State University to Utah by hosting America's longest-running garden show and the Intermountain West's highest-ranked weekend radio show for 3-5 hours each Saturday for 25 years. Sagers started Beginning and Advanced Master Gardener programs in several counties, training more than 2300 Master Gardeners and is the State Master Gardener Coordinator. He has fielded 58,000+ garden questions and taught over 5000 classes in 26 of Utah's 29 counties, 38 states and four countries.

Sagers started Utah's Green Conference, now the largest industry event, helped organize the Utah Community Forest Council and served on 20+ professional and community boards. He is the first non-PhD Agent awarded full professorship and received Utah State University's highest Extension award.

Since his first Annual Meeting and Professional Improvement Conference in 1989, Sagers has missed only three. He has served on several national committees and has run for the office of NACAA Secretary. He has held all leadership positions in the Utah Extension Agents Association and chaired several committees. He has earned 70+ NACAA awards and many more state awards. These include first-place national awards in radio, television, photography, writing and slide sets.

Sagers' life is sharing. He served as a volunteer Bishop (pastor) for a 700 person congregation for seven years by teaching, counseling, giving spiritual guidance and financial help. He served a volunteer mission at Temple Square gardens for nine years and donated more than $25,000 in goods and services to Thanksgiving Point Gardens.

Sagers has also served as a Boy Scout and 4-H leader for 20 years. He recently made significant donations to the Utah Historical Society and regularly donates his services to Utah Public Radio, Primary Children's Hospital, United Way schools and other fundraisers.

Northeast Region
Hall of Fame Award
S. Glenn Ellenberger
Pennsylvania
31 Years - Retired

Glenn Ellenberger, Retired Senior Agent from Lehigh County Pennsylvania, is the 2008 NACAA Hall of Fame Winner for the Northeast Region.

Ellenberger, began his Extension career in Somerset County, Pennsylvania in 1946, then spent the remainder of his 31 year career in Lehigh County. He was instrumental in introducing no-till corn planting through a Corn Tillage Field day. That event is now called "Ag Progress Days" featuring most Pennsylvania field crops.

Glenn was great at maintaining good relationships between urban and rural residents, by his effective use of mass media. He initiated the monthly "Valley Market Basket" program from WLVT, the public television station, and his popular column "Garden Tips" was published in the local Sunday newspaper for more than twenty years. Glenn was an active and enthusiastic member of both the state and national professional associations. He participated in almost every Annual Meeting between 1951 and 1980. He was President of PACAA and received the NACAA Distinguished Service Award in 1963. He was the Northeast Regional Director in 1964-1965 and also served as NACAA Address Coordinator from 1966-1975. In 1976, Glenn was President of the Pennsylvania Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Phi.

Glenn and his wife Lee, have been "pillars" at Asbury United Methodist Church. When their building burned in the early 1970's, Glenn gave strong leadership to the rebuilding process. He served his community through a wide variety of organizations including Parkland School Board, Allentown Lions Club, Lehigh County Conference of Churches, Lehigh County Vocational-Technical School, Lehigh Valley Hospital, Allentown Chamber of Commerce, Lehigh County Community College, the American Red Cross, and Big Brothers of Lehigh Valley.

Donald Huls
Nebraska
40 Years - Retired

Don Huls began his Extension career in 1965 in South Dakota. After receiving his Master Degree, Huls was hired as Extension Agent in Dawes County, Nebraska in 1969. After 40 years in Extension, Don retired in 2005. His extension program included crops, livestock and youth development. His youth program included 35 Interstate 4-H Junior Leader Exchange trips, annual 3 day Horse camps, and production of an annual Junior Leader Program 4-H Special newspaper.

Huls received the NACAA DSA Award in 1982, attended 10 NACAA Annual Meetings, served as the Nebraska Section President and as President of the Nebraska Cooperative Extension Association. Don has been very active in his community, including chairing numerous events for the Chamber of Commerce, Cancer Society and Pine Ridge Job Corps community board. Don and his wife Adele were foster parents for 7 children.

Since retirement, Don has kept busy. In July, 2006, Dawes and Sioux Counties had a 62,000 acre wildfire caused by lightning. The Dawes/Sioux fire fund, received over $200,000, loads of hay, feed, fencing materials, and other supplies donated to those who lost pasture, hay and fence. Don was asked by the community to take the leadership role in distributing those donations to ranchers. Don continues to work on the Chamber of Commerce Ag Committee (started by Don 24 years ago). This past year, Don co-chaired the "Welcome Home Celebration" for the 1057th Transportation Unit from Iraq, securing sponsors, and conducting a parade, program, meal, news releases, and radio spots.

In 2007, the county named a new park "Don's Pine Tree Park", in recognition of his years of community service.
